The MERGE MAXX 950 and 1090 belt mergers are ideal for working on large areas. Two Independent pick-ups offer side or central delivery with several combination possibilities. Rake up to 30m forage and gain up to 3kph.

Dickie Barnes of DH Barnes, a Norfolk contractor, has run his Kuhn Merge Max for two seasons and tells us why he believes it's "awesome"!

"The Merge Maxx is undoubtedly one of the most versatile pieces of equipment we run. For the last two years we've been able to achieve increased productivity, less contamination and therefore better quality forage.

As well as it's performance, the merger allows increased forward speed meaning we can now operate at an average 14kph. We've benefited from significant savings on the forager's wearing parts also thanks to the reduction of stones and soil in the grass.

Last year saw the merger come into its own and show just how versatile it can be. We began work with it at the end of April and it worked through until the end of August. During the wet harvest it allowed us to create larger swaths for high capacity balers and proved its fantastic stability, following contours on uneven ground very well."
